

[facs] FW: Help with family unit

Sarah Keith skeith@washk12.org

Fri Feb 22 13:30:35 MST 2008

-----Original Message-----

From: tiffany quintero [mailto:tquintero@alpine.k12.ut.us]

Sent: Thursday, February 21, 2008 10:07 PM

To: Sarah Keith

Subject: Re: [facs] Help with family unit

I usually play a clip from the "We are Family" song just to get the kids awake and started! Then we talk about the different types of families and the students will talk about their friends families and their own...We then talk about why families are important... what they like about their families... what they would change... we then talk about how the family is more important then where or what they live in... and then we talk about a nation only being as strong as its families and why that is true. I then tell them about my family and the things we do together and that we really like to play games together... I then let the students play games for the last 15 minutes or so of class (monopoly, candy land, chutes and ladders, cards, skip bo, etc.) They seem to really enjoy it and the next day they come to class I ask them about the things they like to do with thier families....

Hopefully that helps!

Tiffany

>>> "Sarah Keith" <skeith@washk12.org> 02/21/08 2:00 PM >>>

Does anyone have any ideas for the family unit in Teen Living? I am trying to make it really fun and interesting and need some ideas.

Thanks.